

EVERY GIRL IN A TENT

Progression Guide

Every girl and every troop is unique! Use this handy progression guide to chart your course based on girls' age and experience levels. With the right preparation, every girl, from those new to nature to experienced adventurers, can spend a night (or many nights!) in a tent this year.

Sleep out! Spend one night outdoors with your troop.

Spend 2 nights at a hike-in campsite at a local state park.

Learn all about winter camping, then plan a trip, and go!

Plan a trip to spend 6+ consecutive nights in a tent.

Venture outside to cook and eat a meal! Practice keeping a kaper chart.

Think outside the tent! Try spending a night in a hammock or a quinzhee.

Camp from a canoe, bike, sled, or backpack.

Plan a short hike and scout out potential campsites.

Learn how to build a quinzhee.

Plan and take 3-5 day outdoor trip.

Learn and practice Leave No Trace principles.

Practice planning & preparing for an all-day outdoor excursion. And then go!

Plan a 1-2 night campout away from home.

Explore the sights and sounds of nature on a nature walk.

Host a daytime mock campout, complete with tents and s'mores!

Have a backyard campout.
