

GIRL SCOUT TRAVEL PROGRESSION

TYPE OF TRIP	DEFINITION	EXPERIENCE LEVEL	APPROPRIATE FOR
MEETING TIME	These mini-trips take place during a troop's regular meeting time. The troop should start and end at their regular meeting location and go to a point of interest that is within walking distance, a short car ride, or accessible via public transportation.	Little—none	All Girl Scout program grade levels
DAY	These simple, one-day excursions get girls away from their regular troop meeting place and last a few hours or more.	Basic; comfortable with meeting-time trips	All Girl Scout program grade levels
SIMPLE OVERNIGHT	On simple overnight trips, girls and volunteers can spend one to two nights at a point of interest like: a Girl Scout facility or campsite, a nearby campground, or hotel.	Basic; comfortable with day trips	All Girl Scout program grade levels
EXTENDED OVERNIGHT	On extended overnight trips, girls and volunteers can spend three or more nights at a point of interest. Points of interest can range anywhere from a nearby Girl Scout facility or campsite to across the continental United States.	Intermediate; comfortable with simple overnights	Juniors (3 nights only), Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors
INTERNATIONAL	Travel to other countries or United States territories is an option for girls 11 years or older. Traveling to other countries opens many doors for girls to broaden their cultural horizons and gain new perspectives. Please note: Some international locations may be on the travel warning list and are not recommended.	Advanced; comfortable with extended overnights	Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors
